

Mothballing public estates

Managing risk

How can Perfect Circle support you?

During this unprecedented period of lock down, many buildings and estates are not being fully utilised. Usually these sorts of closures are planned months in advance and the appropriate measures are implemented to do this safely, securely and efficiently. Unfortunately Covid-19 has not given us all the gift of time.

- 1 The risks posed to estates during this time can be costly and time critical. Perfect Circle works exclusively on Scape Procure's National Built Environment Consultancy Services (BECS) framework, which offers the most extensive property, construction and infrastructure consultancy services to the public sector.
- 2 We offer the most efficient route to market through Scape Procure's direct awards National Built Environment Consultancy Services (BECS) framework. With full public procurement compliance, the BECS framework reduces the time needed for a traditional procurement, enabling us to start on your projects and programmes sooner and to deliver your outcomes within shorter time scales.
- 3 Closure of your estate under Perfect Circle's guidance will meet stringent safety regulations, be fully secured against theft and other crime and will ensure energy supplies to estates are reduced in the most cost efficient way possible. You should always check with your insurers for any other terms and conditions which could invalidate your policy.
- 4 As soon as the government is able to lift the lock down measures, Perfect Circle can be on hand to support the remobilisation process so that the communities that rely on your estates can start to deliver their vital services as soon as possible.
